From Dick Crum: I learned Acano, mlada nevesto in Skopje in 1952 from members of the Macedonian ensemble Tanec. Years later it appeared in the U.S. as a dance tune on Folkraft Macedonian LP 15 (melody only — no lyrics), and I've heard that a Bulgarian version of it came out on a Balkanton 10" LP around the same time, though I've never seen it. Amateur folk dance groups in Macedonia have staged it as a choreographed couple dance, both with and without lyrics, and a very simple oro has been taught to it in the U.S. by various Balkan teachers.
