3) As long as the lights are burning and there's wine in the cellar,
we won't go home till dawn.

1) We won't go home, home,
we won't go home, home,
we won't go home till dawn.

2) The old folks used to say,
as they roasted turkeys,
we won't go home till dawn.

From Dick Crum: I learned this song in Zagreb in the '50s and sang it many times, both in Croatia and among Croatians in the U.S., at festive get-togethers. It is one of a number of favorite old-time drinking songs in the kajkavski dialect of northwestern Croatia that are sung by villagers and city-dwellers alike.
